THIS WEEK'S READINGS

Isaiah 66:10-14 Towards Jerusalem I send flowing peace, like a river.

Psalms 65 (66) Cry out with joy to God, all the Earth.

Gal 6:14-18 The marks on my body are those of Jesus.

Luke 10:1-9 Your peace will rest on that man.

REFLECTION ON THE READINGS

Jesus' focus on his destination is evident. Having decided to begin his journey to Jerusalem, he enlists the help of others to proclaim his message: not the twelve, but 72 whose names are unknown, but who will do what he has been doing. The process continues today. The work of Jesus is carried out by countless people whose names are unknown, but whose lives proclaim the Good News. Are we among them?

Bishops' Conference Statement on Abortion

In the light of recent public debate on the subject of abortion, Scotland's Catholic Bishops offer this perspective to the people of Scotland:

“Whether we believe in anything spiritual or not, the life that each one of us lives is the only one we have, and to take life from the unborn, no matter how insignificant in size, cannot be right. The rights of a woman and the compassion and support due to her, and the circumstances of her pregnancy, are naturally of great concern to us, but an unborn life, once taken, can never be restored. This is what makes abortion such a profoundly important matter for all human beings.

“No matter what position we take, this belief in the profound importance of the issue is shared by us all. It is incumbent on us therefore to accept that deeply held and divergent opinions are at stake and that the conflict which arises from this should be handled with respect and civility.

“Those who do not believe human life begins at the moment of conception, invite the question: ‘when does it begin?’ while those who believe that it does, ask the question: ‘what right have we to take a unique and unrepeatable human life?’

“If we are to be the caring and compassionate society we aspire to be, upholding the sanctity and dignity of all human life must be the foundational principal upon which that aspiration rests.”

Don't panic!
There is always an alternative to abortion.
You do have a choice.

We will help you.
